Mr. Wisson (Rep. Mr. Gallinger admitted that it was Mr. Palmer (Dem. III.) argued that the senate should not permit itself to be drawn into a controversy about the "miserable question of the denominational control of Indian schools." His own feeling was that the good men and good women of various churches who had done such praiseworthy work ameng the Indians schould not be abandoned by the government; but that the

For the schools. He no more attacked the Bennan Catholic church than he attacked the Baptist or the Presbyterian or the Episcopal or the Methodist church. He said that no sect, as such, should receive government money, and he believed in that principle. He was not to be deterred from saying so by the outcry that he was liliberal.

Details of the incident which followed the death of Ruiz are unknown, but special dispatches from Havana have already stated that Consul-General Lee would proceed at once to Guana Bacoa to investigate the death of Ruiz. It has been declared that the hapless American was flone to death at the order of the commandant at Guana Bacoa, General Fenduelo. A possible indication that something unusual has happened in Havana is the fact, that the Olivette, the steamer which leaves Havana for Key West at I o'clock on Saturday afternoons, did not leave that city until 5 o'clock. Her delay has so far been unexplained.

Trip to the Agricultural College

WERE WARMLY WELCOMED

Inspection of the Institution-The Legislative Committee Meet With the Trustees—A Very Pleasant Trip-Personnel of the Party.

The biennial legislative excursion to the Agricultural college at Logan began and ended in a snow storm, and it snowed all day. But the warmth of Logan's hospitality invested the event with so genial a glow that the inciemency of the weather was forgotten.

9 o'clock the special complimentary train tendered by Superintendent ary train tendered by Superintendent Baneroft of the Union Pacific pulled out of the Salt Lake depot. On board was a merry, rollicking party of over 200 law-makers, their wives and guests. Mr. D. C. Adams had charge of the train of six coaches as the special representative of the Union Pacific passenger department. Among the party were Governor Wells and several members of the agricultural collège board of trustees, including W. S. McCornick, D. C. Adams and J. C. Graham. President Nebeker of the senate and Speaker Perkins of the house, with about 15 members of the legislature, remained at home to assist in the entertainment of the Idaho visitors.

THE POPULAR CAR.

THE POPULAR CAR.

Representative Gibson was the first excursionist to discover that the first coach contained other things besides seats, having been set apart for the exclusive use of the commissary. Jacob Moritz was the director general of this interesting feature, and William Calder and L. C. Johnson were his aides. Shortly after Gibson's discovery the committees on irrigation of the two houses went into session in the commissary car, and it is alleged that during the course of its deliberations it was assertained that some things besides water would flow down hill.

At Wood's Cross the train bearing the members of the Idaho legislature was met. "Hurrah for the alfalfas," yelled an Idaho statesman, but the stop was not of sufficient duration to permit a further exchange of salutations.

GOVERNOR WELLS RETURNS. Representative Gibson was the firs

GOVERNOR WELLS RETURNS.

At Ogden Governor Wells was advised by wire that the governor of Idaho had accompanied the Idaho legislators to Salt Lake, and his excellency therefore parted company with the excursionists and returned to the city by the next train, to discover upon his arrival that he had been misinformed.

Several Ogden citizens boarded the train at that point, swelling the total number to 116. The excursionists reached Logan at 12.50, an hour sooner than they had been expected, but the citizens of the "Temple City" were equal to the emergency. The depot grounds were almost blockaded by a hundred or more conveyances and runners, including everything in the sted line, from the fancy single cutter to the four-horse bob. President Tanner. Professor Foster and other members of the agricultural college faculty were the agricultural college faculty were at the depot and were assiduous in their attentions to the guests.

THE ALFALFA CLUB. One of the conveyances was an immense hay rack, mounted on runners, and drawn by four prancing steeds. Banners on its sides bore the inscription, "Alfalfa Club," This was immediately boarded by such affalia leaders as Representatives Shepard, Romney and O Brien, Benner X. Smith and a score of others. They were all standing up and clinging to the sides of the hay rack when the word go was of the hay rack when the word go was given. Then there was a might surge backwards, a great crash and a job but of law-makers tumbled overboard into the snow. Representative Mangan also fell out of another sleigh into a snow-drift, but barring these hilarious inci-dents the two-mile drive to the col-lege was accomplished in safety, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the excurof the hay cooking class, with its ranges and little table for each of the 40 pupils, was inspected with interest. Mrs. Catey is the instructress, and the young ladies are taught how to cook everything from corn bread to deviled crabs.

The classrooms and laboratories, department of commercial training, museum and other objects of interest were inspected, and then the guests were invited to "join in the dance," the gymnasium room being given over to terpsichorean festivities. An excellent or cheatra was provided and the floor was crowded with merry dancers during the remainder of the afternoon.

senate committee on public insitutions, the house committee or Agricultural callege and the joint committee on appropriations met with the college trustees during the afternoon. The report of the board of trustees was considered and a discussion of proposed improvements ensued. The institution was especially inspected by these committees with a view to ascertaining the desirability of the improvements suggested by President Tanner and the board. These include the purchase of a printing plant, changing the location of the laboratories, the construction of an evaporator for drying fruit, extension of the workshops and improvement in the severage, The board estimate the cost of these improvements at $14,000. And Professor Tanner's estimate is $14,000. The committees believe that all of these improvements with the exception of the printing plant and the evaporator, are absolutely necessary and will grant an appropriation sufficient to meet the expense with the exceptions noted.

THE RETURN.

It was 7 o'clock when the train started on the return trip, and II when it reached this city, the entire trip until within a few miles of Sait Lake being made in a blinding snowstorm. The excursionists gave warm praise to the citizens of Logan and the college authorities for their generous hospitality and the attentions showered upon them.

Got a Knock-Out Blow.

York, Feb. 20.-Boxing exhibit

New York, Feb. 20.—Boxing exhibitions at Coney Island received a knockout blow yesterday at the hands of the appellate division of the special court, when it reversed Justice Gaynor's decision, compelling Mayor Wurster to give a theatrical license to the Turf Athletic club. The application had been made by Eugene J. Cumisky, secretary of the club, on June 19, 1885, after Mayor Wurster had refused to issue a license because he had learned from reports made to him by his private secretary and the police that the proposed exhibitions were but a guise for prize fights. Cumisky then applied for a mandamus, which was granted by Justice Gaynor, in an elaborate opinion, in which he held that the mayor, under the law, had no right to refuse a license to any one who applied for it. The city at once appealed and its appeal acted as a stay until now, thereby preventing the Turf Athletic club from giving any exhibitions.
